

6/6/11 – Another Realtor Assaulted

A real estate agent was assaulted during an open house Sunday afternoon at a home for sale in the 700 block of Cascade Street in Wenatchee. Police Sgt. John Kruse said the local woman called police after incident about 1:30pm. Kruse said she told authorities a husband and wife had toured the home together but the suspect returned alone and asked to see the home's basement. Kruse says the intoxicated man allegedly tried to grab the female real estate agent. Officers contacted the man who claimed they were just having a "consensual hug". Kruse says the woman was not injured
